

the sense of logic seems to expect some impression on sense which has nothing to report

is creation as an act merely a tapping into what is present product of invisible structures balancing on a tightrope

a

the
unseen dynamics

tale through
imminent
realities

equation

an

speaking through
underlying designs

is it

a looking glass

empty of all things