

so what is this

a frame of reference to relate reality and what is a relative point of reference an inquiry into being and to whom is this inquiry being made

or from where

a place that you recognize that recognizes
you

a clear reflection

blessed by mere existence

expressed to ourselves from our selves

way

like signposts on the
a decoding #
a state of being not identified yet

from resistance to acceptance to surrender

the greatest of our obstacles is

doubt

& denying the flow it's as if it could connection that keeps us alive the destroy us take away our power the

thread

whereas

a subtle bow of the head

an

acknowledgement of
other presences god

the god within

manifest

at moments out of time

tearing away the fabric of

reality

dropped into a state of in-between

in

where from
a spiral shell
layer
to
layer

the sense of self shifts

dissolved

in transition
into transporence
a cleanse
on a molecular level

'till all remaining 'otherness' falls away

for it seems we have to fall completely into pieces to be assembled again in a flash by a force that is beyond us spark s from an innerspace manifest a particular pattern creating conte xt of it s own leavin g imprint s behind formles s form a mere essence as it is that which we all essential y are so it's only natural to inquire of one another outside of the projected worl d

outside of roles or even characte r ..

instead of mind-based interactions in the temporal notinterestin'

embracin g
spaces of no mind
visitin g
an inner realm of the unconditioned wher e sacredness permeate s are we generating this space from within or is it pullin g us in

?

light
unfolde d in the invisibl e

principles of
resonance

alert stillnes s

it's dark and cold in the beginnin g

..

a darin g to ente r
canno t run away from oursel ves

an unfoldin g sense of familiarity matter converted into consciousness a relation to bein g

how we become who we are

can all appear as a void where the ground is in desperate need of being invented all over again “ no identification, no definition, nothing makes actuality damn hard to handle “ in that
fractional infinite moment syllable s otherwise akin to an undercurrent of lava appear
“
silence what has been nothing but silence the n to it begins to speak again “